

WOULD THIS JOB BENEFIT FROM A VERMEER COMPACT ARTICULATED LOADER (ATX)?

Is it a tree service job?

Yes

You could use an ATX. You could use an ATX. The ATX can save you time and energy on jobsites.

No

Is it landscaping?

Yes

You could use an ATX. Rock, mulch and stone pavers just got more efficient to move.

No

Is there snow removal?

Yes

You could use an ATX. The optional enclosed cab is quite cozy in cold weather.

No

Something else?

Yes

Do you need low turf disturbance?

Yes

You could use an ATX. Torn up turf is for someone else who isn't you.

No

Start again. (Sounds like you could use an ATX though.)

How about high lift capabilities?

Yes

You could use an ATX. It's a light machine but the lift-capacity-to-weight ratio is impressive, to say the least.

How about an extendable telescopic boom?

Yes

You could use an ATX. "Don't mind me while I pick something up from the opposite side of a trailer." — You in your ATX

No

Do you need high maneuverability?

Yes

You could use an ATX. The narrow tires, compact size and tight turning radius will have you running circles around your jobsite.

No

Would you like some versatile attachments?

Yes

You could use an ATX. Our lineup of versatile attachments can help you equip it your way.

No

Contact us. You could probably use some time in an ATX. Contact your local Vermeer dealer — they'll hook you up with a demo!
